March 2024

Hello again, Cardinal Virginians,

Ahh, March, and hope of spring. It won't be long now until we can enjoy some warmer weather and new spring buds will be popping up everywhere. It will be a celebration of new birth.

And speaking of celebrations, March certainly has its share of special days. I thought I might share a few.

- We are first called to duty, as to say: March 4th.
- Then there is International Women's Day. It is observed annually on March 8th, serves as a global celebration of the social, economic, cultural, and political achievements of women.
- Sunday, March 10, 2024 is Daylight Savings Time for Spring, time to move those clocks forward 1 hour.
- 3.14, Celebrate pi day with math, or you can just enjoy a piece of Pie while trying to memorize Pi. Good luck with that.
- The 74th day of the Roman calendar is March 15. It is known as the Ides of March, good thing you are not Julius Caesar.
- And of course March 17, St Patrick's Day, 'tis the waring of the green!
- Tuesday March 19, 2024 marks the first day of Spring. The Spring Equinox will usher in the new season. Bring on the sunshine and longer days!
- I think I may have just found my favorite holiday. (After Pie day of course) March 19, 2024. National Let's Laugh Day is March 19, 2024. Sharing funny memes encourages laughter which is exactly what this fun March holiday is about.

- March Madness – March 21, 2024. Who is ready for some NCAA college basketball?
- The Lenten season started on February 14th and continues until March 28, 2024.
- March 29, The end of Lent and the last Friday before Easter is marked by the religious holiday of Good Friday.
- And the Easter holiday comes earlier this year on Sunday, March 31, 2024.

So you can see there is a lot to celebrate in March. But most of all we need to celebrate the gift of everyday life and friendship that we continue to hold dear in each and every day

Baynard

Greetings to all Cardinal Virginians,

I thought I might remind everyone that our 2024 dues are now due.

Our dues are a bargain, at only $25 per coach to keep our Chapter going strong.

Please send your check to our treasurer:

Steve Bowers
206 Twin Cove Trail
Moneta, VA 24121

Thanks, and see you out there,
Baynard

Caring and concerns:

Judy Matthews continues to slowly recover from her back surgery. Seeing small improvements on week. She and Gene are planning on attending several rallies this year. Look forward to seeing them both.

Sharon Seaman has developed some heart irregularities following her stroke. She is making great progress from her stroke, but let's keep her in our prayers as she continues her total recovery.

Steve Bowers had his knee surgery which fortunately did not require knee replacement just some meniscus and other internal issues repair. He is doing physical therapy now and we pray that this will get him ready for our upcoming rallies!

As always we lift Cheryl Brown up in our thoughts and prayers. We so miss her cheerful and loving presence at our gatherings. We love you Cheryl.

If you know of a member that we need to lift up as a club please text me at 540-270-7219 or email fallenoakfarm@juno.com

Respectfully,
Betty Franklin
Caring and Conerns
